

Abstract

Government intervention in financial markets through interest rate ceilings for bank deposit, high rates of statutory reserves, intervention in the distribution of bank credit, laws codification and Restrictive regulations of current account and capital account, it can be make The low interest rates to below inflation rate and negative real interest rate, This conditions in the economic literature is called financial repression, is one of effective Factors on economics growth Existence of positive relationship between financial development and economic growth ,by Studies many researchers has led to study on the development of financial markets and growth inhibitory factors. With according to the high share of agriculture in Iran economics and effective factors on growth of this paper, has been tried Using time series data During the period and Auto Regressive Distributed Lag ,be studied Impact of financial repression as one of the effective factors on the growth of agricultural sector in Iran. The results suggest the negative impact of financial repression on growth of agriculture sector. Therefore the specific proposal of this study is gradual release of financial repression policy.

Keywords: Financial Repression, Agricultural Sector, ARDL Model.

University of Zabol

Graduate school

Faculty of Agricultur

Department of Agricultural Economics

The Thesis Submitted for the Degree of Master of Science
(in the field of Agricultural Economic)

Title

The Effect of Financial Repression on of Agricultural Sector Growth

Supervisor:

Dr.M.Ahmadpoor

Dr.S.Zeiaee

Advisor:

Ms.A.R.Keikha

By:

T.Sarani

January 2016