

Abstract

Women constitute half of the rural population and in fact, they become productive agriculture in the economic system are considered. the pattern of rural women it is important to take time work suggests productive but unpaid rural women, in various fields, such as domestic work, work at home and working on the farm, role in increasing household income and reduce costs of production and capital formation is and most importantly, reflects the contribution of rural women in the country's economy. in this study, we try to spend time with an emphasis on rural women, analysis of the time in the rural city of Zabol checking. an applied research and it is descriptive. data were collected through literature review and rural women 's questionnaire. pearson test was used to test the hypotheses. results showed that the economic status of rural women's leisure and social - and social beliefs of a significant negative relationship exists. the rural women on average 6 hours of their time engaged in daily chores these activities include cooking, cleaning the house, tending to the children and the wife. therefore, it is suggested, given that rural women play an important role in the family economy, government support and education to change the mindset of traditional beliefs of women about their abilities and enhance self-esteem, blossoming of their predisposition to act .

Keywords: timefare, rural women, Zabol Villages .

University of zabol

Pardis (2)

Graduate School

Faculty Of literature and Humanities

Department of Geography

The thesis submitted for the Degree of Master of science

In the field Geography and Rural planning

Subject:

Timefare Analysis of rural women in zabol

Supervisor1:

Dr.M.Tavakoli

Supervisor2:

Dr.H.Heidary Mokarar

By:

Z.Arefi

September 2014